Your Eyes Require Attention

You should not neglect even the slightest indication of failing vision. If your eyes tire easily, if they ache, smart or water, if you have pain in the eyeball, or if, temples or forehead, there are all indications of failing vision, and reasons why you should consult an optometrist. Think of the sorrow that would follow the loss of sight—then why neglect these indications.

GREENVILLE NEWS.

Many Attend Graduation Exercises at Grammar School—Notes.

There was a large attendance of friends and relatives of the pupils at the graduation exercises held in the hall of the Greenville grammar school at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. The school orchestra played our Country as the graduates entered the hall, taking seats on the platform, which was decorated with laurel and other flowers. Prayer was offered by Rev. I. Johns Bohman, after which the following programme was presented: Recitation, The Arab's Farewell to His Steed, Mrs. Norton, Peter Edward Flynn; recitation, The Mimic, anon.; Charles Ervin; recitation, Mother's Fool, anon.; Mary Elizabeth Spellman; reading, Our Guide in Genoa and Rome, Mark Twain, Archibald Remsen Gilchrist; chorus, With Fife and Drum, anon.; recitation, The Teacher's Dream, Venable, Maude Hazel Card; recitation, The Two Blacksmiths, anon.; William Adams Sears; declamation, Incentives to Duty, Sumner, Milton Morris Osborne; recitation, The Best Cow in Peril, anon.; Raymond Percival Williams.

The scholars of room No. 10 presented the cantata The Garden of Flowers, words by E. Teshemacher and music by Luigi Denza under the direction of Frederick W. Lester, the solo parts being taken by Misses Elizabeth Gray and Caroline Mary Bowker.

The programme was continued as follows: Recitation, Poor Little Joe, Proffitt, Anna Beatrice Boyd; recitation, The Cold Water Man, Sax, Max; George Francis Cook; reading, The Fashionable School Girl, anon.; Jeanette Flora Purdon; recitation, The Poet's Prayer, Still, Gladys Viola Wilson; recitation, The Priest and the Mulberry Tree, Peacock, Alfred Richard Lovander; chorus, All Hail Land of the Free, Rice, room 10; recitation, An Essay on Her Sex, Goldsmith, Andrew Boyd; class prophecy, Caroline Mary Bowker; valedictory, Allan Brown.

On behalf of the board of education the following was presented Principal Hobson:

It was with regret that the board of education of the Greenville school district received the resignation of Mr. Clifford H. Hobson. During his five and one-half years as principal he has been faithful and energetic worker for the best interests of the school. His discipline has been excellent and his executive ability has been such as to accomplish his aims, at the same time maintaining the friendship of the scholars and teachers. He leaves the school in exceptionally good condition, and we believe that the larger part of which he is to be congratulated upon securing his services.

(Signed)
CHARLES O. MURPHY, President.
SHEPARD B. PALMER, Secretary.

Charles O. Murphy, president of the board of education, presented the diploma and made a short address to the children. Principal Clifford H. Hobson awarded the prizes for excellence in work, the first prize, $10 in gold, going to Allan Brown, and the second, $5 in gold, going to Milton Morris Osborne. Mr. Hobson made a farewell address to the assembly, speaking of the kindness with which he had always been treated by the Greenville people, and of the pleasant memory which he would always keep of the years passed here.

The programme was concluded with the playing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" and the singing of the school song.

The graduates are: Caroline Mary Bowker, Anna Beatrice Boyd, Maude Hazel Card, Mary Elizabeth Spellman, Jeanette Flora Purdon, Mary Elizabeth Spellman, Gladys Viola Wilson, Andrew Boyd, Allan Brown, George Francis Cook, Charles Ervin, Peter Edward Flynn, Archibald Remsen Gilchrist, Alfred Richard Lovander, Milton Morris Osborne, William Adams Sears, Raymond Percival Williams.

The school officials are: Clifford H. Hobson, supervising principal; Rachel Jennings, assistant; Frederick W. Lester, supervisor of music.

Class notes: The singing and Still to Conquer. Specimens of the work of the school were exhibited on the walls of the senior room and brought forth favorable criticism from the spectators. On Saturday the class with their teachers will enjoy an outing at the drawbridge.

Mr. Hobson received a handsome copy of Longfellow's poems from the graduates and a brass desk set from the teachers. A diamond scarf and

NEARING THE TIME OF CONFLICT
Local Companies Were Pushed Into Virginia to Support Ohio Regiment—Jackson Guards Get Another Chance to Go to the Front—Flag Raisings and Secessionists.

This week fifty years ago marked the further movement of the Connecticut regiment, containing local companies, the First and Second being advanced into Virginia, while the state took up the matter of getting the Fifth ready to go into the field. The flag raisings continued to be held, and also in the surrounding towns. The Jackson Guards were notified that if reorganized they could go out with the Fifth regiment from Hartford, and also the London company was recruited for the same regiment.

The following are items from The Bulletin of 1861:

June 19, 1861—A letter from a correspondent with the First Connecticut at Roche's mill in Virginia stating that a party of forty men had been sent out from the camp to ten miles north of the camp. At noon there was much excitement as it was reported the rebels had burned a bridge but this was found untrue, it being the first sound of a battle. A railroad bridge probably started by an engine spark.

There was a big time at the flag raising in north Scituate, where plenty of enthusiasm was uncorrupted. June 20, 1861—Benjamin R. Perkins a member of Captain Hawley's company in the First regiment has been appointed first lieutenant in the 12th regiment of infantry.

J. B. D. of the Sixth Massachusetts, the regiment fired on when going through Baltimore, wrote to the Bulletin saying that he wished to see Baltimore again particularly Pratt street so he went there from camp near Relay House. He wrote: "As I came along where we were fired upon first, as I stood looking at the building from which we were fired at, two men came running out of a store and said: 'Going to Washington are you?' They followed me nearly a square and failing to get up any excitement, they turned and left me to pursue my walk without any further trouble."

June 21, 1861—Captain Maguire of the Jackson guard received a telegram from Hartford yesterday requesting him to reorganize his company as soon as possible so that it can be mustered in with the Fifth regiment.

We understand that the Fifth regiment which has been known as Col. Colt's regiment is to be filled up by the state and mustered in as soon as full.

The Second regiment is now at Camp a watch fob with the seal of Brown university, of which Mr. Hobson is a graduate, and a watch chain, which was principal from the entire school.

The school orchestra, which rendered selections in a pleasing manner, is composed of the following: Thomas Henry Rothwell, Archibald Gilchrist, Alice Ringland, Pierre Thibault, Jeanette Flora Purdon, Anna Beatrice Boyd and Gladys Viola Wilson, mandolin; Mary Elizabeth Gray, piano.

DISTRICT SCHOOL MEETING
Short, Harmonious Session—Officers Re-elected.

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the Greenville school district, held at the school on Friday evening, at which President C. O. Murphy presided, and the session was a short and harmonious one. The reports of the board of education, the principal and the teachers were accepted as read. The next business was the election of officers. John W. McKinley and T. A. Carey, registrars, were again elected. The district officers and last year's officers were re-elected. Total numbers of ballots cast, 164. Member board of education for three years, C. O. Murphy 160, Dr. E. J. Brophy 152, for one year, Dr. O. unexpired term of William H. Collins, Edward Crooks 158; treasurer, David S. Gilmour 163; clerk, M. J. Bellefleur 162; collector, C. J. Powers 163; auditor, James W. Semple 163; O. W. Carpenter and M. J. Curran were appointed to count the vote. It was voted to lay a two-mill tax on the revised valuation of the district. A vote of appreciation of the services of C. H. Hobson was given and adjournment was taken.

Following the district meeting, the board of education met to organize and elected the following officers: President, Charles O. Murphy; secretary, S. P. Palmer. The following committee was appointed: C. O. Murphy, Dr. E. J. Brophy, repairs; C. O. Murphy, S. B. Palmer, J. T. Sullivan; supplies; J. T. Sullivan, J. W. McKinley, Edward Crooks.

Peter Mickle Injured.
Peter Mickle, a coal passer in the plant of the United States Finishing company, received a painful injury in the leg when his shovel struck a railroad torpedo which exploded at about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. He was attended by a physician and a piece of tin was applied to the wound, which will probably confine Mr. Mickle to his home on North Main street for several days.

Note.
On Friday the city's men sprayed the trees about Greenville.

Lloyd Miner of Jewett City spent Friday with local friends.

TAFTVILLE
Wequonnoc School Graduation Exercises in Ponemah Hall—Notes.

Many friends and relatives of the graduating class of the Wequonnoc school attended the graduation exercises held in Ponemah hall at 8 o'clock Friday evening. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the walls were lined with specimens of the manual work of the school. In one corner were garments made by the girls of the seventh and eighth grades, and in another corner were the work of the girls of the sixth and seventh grades. The exhibition of basket work occasioned favorable criticism, as did the many paintings and sketches in black and white. This year sewing has been introduced into the seventh and eighth grades only, but the course will probably include the girls of other classes next year. The decorations were entirely in red, white and blue, the class colors. The programme was as follows:

Music, Song of Liberty, Wollenhampt school chorus; reading from Evangelist, Longfellow—Prologue, class of 1911; Acadian Life, Agnes Graham; The Prophet, Blanchard; The Old Folks, The King's Mantle, Anna Maybelle Morse, Edith Isabelle Forsyth Walker, Lillie Augusta Aberg, Leone Frederick DeCelles, George Maddock Smith, Father Pellier's Repose, Leroy Cowlishaw Working; music, Beautiful Moonlight, Stephen Glover, school chorus; readings from Evangelist, The Banishment of the Acadicians, Edwin Pollard; The Beginning of Evangelist's Search for Gabriel, Ethel Bennett Stubbs, Lillie Josephine Agnes O'Brien, Irene Lucille Day, Richard Krauss, Harold Milton Pinyer, The Journey Down the Mississippi, Wilford Desmarais; Evangeline as a Sister of Mercy in Philadelphia, Ethel Han-tyler with the First in Virginia. Sergeant Austin G. Munroe and a corporal of Captain Chester's company of this city, has been taken prisoner by the rebels while performing picket duty in Virginia.

June 22, 1861—The First and Second regiments have been moved to Falls church some five miles from Roche's mills to support the First Ohio regiment, which was attacked the day before. The First and Second regiments are the furthest advanced into the rebel country. Their position now is one of great interest and importance. The First and Second regiments are in constant expectation of an attack.

Last evening the postmaster of Bozrahville having made himself perfectly acquainted with his fellow citizens by proclaiming himself in favor of the south, was treated to the Rogues' march by the Calathumpian trio band accompanied by groans and hisses.

At the raising of William Bailey's flag Chester Haskell having made himself obnoxious to his fellow citizens by his conduct in the south and by slandering and abusing the French of the village, they determined to ride him on a wooden horse, when the postmaster locked him up in his office and kept him there through the night. Since then he has rejoiced over the gallant Ellsworth death.

E. P. Slocum left the Commodore Rogers' night with six large cannons of all sorts of things for the Norwich boys at the seat of war. He expects to reach Washington this evening.

The Third regiment has at last crossed over into Virginia. June 25, 1861—A petition is being circulated in the town of Griswold and Lisbon for the abolition of slavery. There was a flag raising in front of the Uncas Engine house at the Falls yesterday on the flagstaff 152 feet in height, the highest in the state.

Measure, Field & Co. are getting up a strawberry festival the net proceeds to go to the Volunteer fund. Tickets entitle holders to an unlimited consumption of the delicacies of the season.

Ellen Mary Jackson, Alice Emma George, George Grieshammer, George William Weller, The End of the Search, Lena Elenore Seidel; Epilogue, class of 1911; music, Old Black Joe, school chorus.

Acting school visitor Frank H. Foss addressed the children and presented the diplomas, and the programme was concluded with the class song by the boys and girls. The graduates of the graduating class are: Lillie Augusta Aberg, Irene Lucille Day, Leone Frederick DeCelles, Wilfrid Desmarais, Agnes Graham, George Grieshammer, Ethel Han-tyler, Ellen Mary Jackson, Richard Krauss, Alice Emma Kyle, Blanche Horstman Moller, Anna Maybelle Morse, Lillie Josephine Agnes O'Brien, Harold Milton Pinyer, Edwin Pollard, Lena Elenore Seidel, George Maddock Smith, Ethel Bennett Stubbs, Edith Isabelle Forsyth Walker, George William Weller and Leroy Cowlishaw Working.

Frederic J. Working is principal of the school; Grace E. Adams and Mary E. Calahan, assistants; Edna M. Weller, Fred E. Edson, and Mrs. S. Webb instructor in drawing. The school committee is composed of Charles P. Bushnell, chairman, Alfred Edmundson and David W. O'Brien.

Notes.
Several departments of the Ponemah mill were forced to close Friday on account of low water.

Isidore Dubois of Mechanicville is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kenyon of Hunter's avenue.

The valedictorian of the graduating class of the Sacred Heart school was Margaret Elizabeth Rose Hasler, daughter of Mrs. Bernard Sullivan Hasler.

John Sullivan, Samuel Tredeau and Miss Sadie Jackson arrived home Friday from Hartford, where they have been attending school. T. J. Sullivan met the party at Williamtown.

The members of the Sunday school of the Congregational church will enjoy an outing at Crescent Beach today (Saturday), leaving Taftville on the 7:45 car and taking the boat at Norwich. The day will be spent on the beach. The occasion is anticipated with great pleasure by the members of the school.

The children of the kindergarten at the Wequonnoc school enjoyed a party on Friday, the last day of school for the term. The teachers are Misses Ida Lillbridge, Mathilde Stapper. The latter is away for Switzerland, where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Local Gleanings.
Mrs. George Gudbrod and son David Gudbrod of Greenport, N. Y., have left after a short stay with friends here.

Charles Vollmer of Sturtevant street went to spend the week with his sister, Mrs. Charles Thlinghaof of Clarks Falls.

Miss Gertrude Manning of West Town street is in Elmwood and the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Willis Fuller.

Mrs. Charles Abell of East Town street had as guests Thursday Mrs. Oscar Knowles and Mrs. Charles Sizer and son, Edson Sizer, of Ivoryton.

A lily in this section has a fine Easter lily in full bloom. After it finished blossoming a year ago it was cut down, and the second growth is much admired.

IMPRESSION OF NORWICH.
Written by Norwich, Eng., Man Who is in Rose of New England.

As bits of Norwich, Eng., news are of interest to us, so seemingly everything pertaining to its namesake, Norwich, Conn., is of much interest to the English city for which it was named. This is shown by a marked copy of the Norwich, Eng., Eastern Evening News, received by Jonathan Trumbull. The article, contributed under the heading Here and There, reads:

"You have often had references to Norwich (Connecticut), and as they are of great interest, I thought you would like to know that I have recently become a resident in our namesake in America, and have learned from him, and from a number of old friends of the English Norwich, in 1909 Norwich (Conn.) celebrated its 250th anniversary of settlement as a township, quite a respectable antiquity for this side of the water. Norwich lies in the cup formed by seven adjacent bays. Two rivers (Shetucket and Yantic) join here to form a fine river called the Thames, which flows to New London and Long Island Sound (14 miles). Our Norwich is so quaint and pretty that it is called 'The Rose of New England.'"

Mr. Trumbull has recently received from Agas H. Gooze, with whom he has exchanged many courtesies, an official souvenir of the royal show on Norwich, Eng., during the coronation year. The book of 11 pages is filled with interesting and historical facts. Opening with portraits of King George and Queen Mary in their coronation robes, it also contains portraits of all the monarchs and lists of the several committees.

It includes the programme for each successive day and a pretty illustrated sketch of the city under the title of Norwich of Yesterday and Today.
